Delmore With "A Jay Circus." The most extravagant praise has been lavished on the beauty, skill and grace of Mlle Delmore, the serpentine dancer who comes to the Grand Opera House the last half of this week with Sherman & Morrissey's "A Jay Circus." She made a hit in London and Paris, as well as everywhere she has appeared on this side of the water. No doubt she will win as many admirers here as the house will hold.

A Prominent Man Dead.

Joseph C. McCleary died at his home at Portland on Sunday night, aged 83. He represented Jefferson county in the Ohio legislature in 1860, and helped to break the deadlock and elect S. P. Chase to the United States senate, and he was internal revenue collector under Abraham Lincoln's administration. The wife of the deceased died some years ago. The surviving children are Mayor McCleary, Wellsburg; Mrs. Neal and Robert McCleary, of Portland, and Ross McCleary, of Steubenville.

For Council To-night.

At the regular meeting of the city council this evening a petition will be presented to have Alley E opened east of Eoff street and south of Eleventh. The alley there runs only about half way through the square. The only other business expected to come up is routine, such as committee reports. The most important matter will be the payment of bills against the ten-cent levy fund. Contractors have laid out money for sewer pipes and other things, and are naturally anxious to have their accounts approved by council and paid.

Horses and Buggies Stolen.

Night before last a dark bay mare and a set of harness were stolen from Dr. M. A. Dowler's stable, down at McMechen. The same night a phaeton buggy was stolen from Wat Dugan, at Benwood, probably by the same thief. Yesterday postal cards were sent out by Chief of Police McNeel, offering a reward of $15 for the horse and harness, or $30 for the horse, harness and thief.

Lon Lynch, of Mountdeville, also had a horse and buggy stolen night before last. Some time yesterday the authorities at Cameron who had been furnished a description of the rig, recovered it.

Sixteen Assorted Cases.

In the police court yesterday there were sixteen cases. George Swiner, W. H. Mackenberger and William Harrison, for disorder, paid $1 and costs each. John Gaudin got $5 and costs for the same offense. Kittle Lee was fined $20 and costs for keeping a house of ill fame, and four girls and two men found in the house paid the usual $5 and costs. John Wagner was fined $20 and costs for permitting public lewdness. The two women arrested in his place paid $5 and costs each. Thomas King, a plain drunk, was dismissed. The fines and costs collected aggregated $160, and nobody was sent up—an unusual record.

The Marshal Used His Club.

Marshal Bahr, of Bellaire, used his mace right freely over Albert Crowe's head yesterday at noon. Crowe had been on the warpath all morning, had whipped his wife severely and was about to clean out the neighborhood. When the marshal arrived he found Crowe armed with a black-jack and a revolver, and he was determined not to be arrested. The marshal warned him, but still he resisted, and only yielded when the officer's mace had cut him over the eye and produced a bunch of caution on his head. When he reached the lockup he was covered with blood. The matter will be investigated by the mayor to-day, and Crowe is reasonably certain of a term in jail.

To Cleanse the System.

Effectually yet gently, when constive or bilious, or when the blood is impure or sluggish, to permanently cure habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to a healthy activity, without irritating or weakening them, to dispel headaches, colds or fevers use Syrup of Figs.

Rev. GEORGE STUART will conduct the services at the Mountdeville camp grounds from August 9th to 10th.

ROBERT W. KYLE has the Pittsburgh Filter in all sizes for domestic and manufacturing purposes.

COUNCIL COMMITTEES.

Some Interesting Matters Considered Last Night.

THE CREMATORY SUPERINTENDENT

Resigns After a Racket with Haulers. The Furnace Needs Repairs—One Saloon License Granted for the old Bachellet Drive, and one Laid on the Table—Two Other Committees Fail to get a Quorum.

Last evening the council committee on health had one of its old-time talkative sessions. The first matter sprung was a notification by Dr. Caddie, the chairman, that Superintendent Mike Dun, of the crematory, had resigned and he had placed the assistant, Tim O'Leary, in charge temporarily. The committee, after some discussion, ratified this action and retained O'Leary until a successor to Dun is chosen by council.

O'Leary, on being questioned as to a recent racket at the furnace, said one of C. W. Hixey's men came there with ten barrels. They were not filled with fifteen inches of the top, and he credited him with only eight barrels, saying he did not propose to help rob a man. The driver said: "Say nothing, and I'll bring up a half pint of liquor." O'Leary refused the offer.

Health Officer McCoy was rather inclined to defend the night soil haulers, but the committee evidently thought the acting superintendent had done right. Bills were passed as follows: after some discussion on each: Cleaning fines, etc., $8; inspection, $102; moving furniture out of the Bachellet drive, hauling and storage, $29; advertising, $17.25. The report of the work done by the crematory in July showed that there had been burned 147 wagon loads of garbage; 64 cart loads; 16 loads from the Second ward market house and 9 from the Fifth; 22 dogs and cats; 9 horses; 1 cow; 1 sheep; 339 barrels and boxes, and 4 wagon loads of paper and 321 barrels of night soil.

The fire department committee was to have met, but failed to get a quorum. Several members waited an hour and then gave it up. The daily tests of the boxes will hereafter be made at 7 a. m. and 4 p. m., instead of 7 and 7. If anything proves to be wrong in the evening there will then be time to repair it before dark.

The committee on petitions and remonstrances had before it the applications of Ben Dunlap to keep a saloon at 927 Market street, Louis Bachellet's old "Black Diamond" dive, and of William Falloure to keep on Market street between Sixteenth and South. After calling in Dunlap and questioning him, the committee agreed to recommend that his license be granted. Falloure's application was laid on the table.

The committee on claims was to have met at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to inspect the house of Mr. O'Leary, in North Wheeling, which he claims was damaged by a change in a street grade, and the place in Alley D, south of Eleventh street, where the wife of Rev. Mr. Walker fell over a stone wall and was badly hurt. Only Messrs. Killen and Hadlich and Clerk Hanke showed up. They went over the ground, however, and it is expected the other members will go over it alone hereafter.

"THE NATIONAL ROAD."

An Agency for Colonel Seagriff's Book in This City.

Col. Thomas Seagriff's book, "The Old National Road," which has created a general sensation in this vicinity, and in fact at all points along this great and historic thoroughfare. Colonel Seagriff has collected an immense amount of valuable information and interesting reminiscences, and from these materials he has woven a work that is almost as fascinating as romance. To residents along the road, and to others who are interested in the early history of the country it traversed, the book will become more valuable as each year passes. The book is handsomely printed and durably bound, and the sales so far in this vicinity have been very rapid. Mr. Hugh J. Whyte, of Whitfield postoffice, has taken the agency for this section. A letter addressed to him will be promptly attended to. He will have city headquarters at William F. Weir's, No. 1228 Market street, where a copy of the book can be seen.
